

Congress of the United States
Washington, DC 20515

August 13, 2022

The Honorable Avril Haines
Director of National Intelligence
Office of the Director of National Intelligence
Washington, D.C. 20511

Dear Director Haines:

We write to request an immediate review and damage assessment following reports that former President Trump removed and retained highly classified information at his personal residence at the Mar-a-Lago Club in Palm Beach, Florida, in potential violation of the Presidential Records Act and laws protecting national security, including the Espionage Act.¹ Those entrusted with access to classified information have a duty and an obligation to protect it. Yet, a recently unsealed court-authorized search warrant and the inventory of property recovered at the Mar-a-Lago Club describe numerous classified documents held by former President Trump, including Top Secret/Sensitive Compartmented Information (TS/SCI) material—among the most sensitive and highly protected information in the U.S. Government.² Former President Trump’s conduct has potentially put our national security at grave risk. This issue demands a full review, in addition to the ongoing law enforcement inquiry.

On Monday, August 8, the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) conducted a court-authorized search of former President Trump’s Mar-a-Lago Club and removed at least 27 boxes of materials.³ The search followed months of reported back-and-forth between federal investigators and the former President regarding U.S. Government property that may have been improperly retained following the end of the Trump Administration, some of which was reportedly kept in a storage area at the Mar-a-Lago Club.⁴

According to the search warrant and property log recently unsealed, the recovered materials span 45 categories, including 11 sets of classified documents ranging from “Confidential” to “Secret” to “Top Secret” and “TS/SCI documents.”⁵ The unauthorized disclosure of Top Secret information would cause “exceptionally grave damage to the national security.”⁶ In addition, at least one report indicates that FBI’s investigation focused in part on highly classified documents “relating to nuclear weapons,” which are among our nation’s most closely guarded secrets.⁷ If this report is true, it is hard to overstate the national security danger that could emanate from the reckless decision to remove and retain this material.

Both the Oversight Committee and the House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence have conducted oversight of issues presented by the apparent mishandling of government records, both during and after the Trump Administration. In February, Chairwoman Maloney wrote to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) expressing serious concerns that records “appear to have been removed from the White House in violation of the Presidential Records Act” and that reports indicated that “President Trump repeatedly attempted to destroy presidential records.”⁸ While the former President returned 15 boxes of records to NARA earlier this year, recent developments show he continued to retain sensitive and classified materials belonging to the U.S. Government.

Under Intelligence Community (IC) directives issued by your office, damage assessments are used “to evaluate actual or potential damage to national security resulting from the unauthorized disclosure or compromise of classified national intelligence.” IC Directive 732 states:

In cases where the unauthorized disclosure or compromise involves classified national intelligence originating from or otherwise affecting more than one IC element or U.S. Government department or agency, there will be a Community damage assessment. Such damage assessments shall include participation and support from the affected IC elements and other representatives as directed by the DNI.⁹

The Directive charges DNI’s National Counterintelligence Executive to “[o]versee and coordinate equity reviews and formal damage assessments within the IC” and “[l]ead, when designated by the DNI, or facilitate damage assessment teams when the unauthorized disclosure or compromise involves classified national intelligence affecting more than one IC element or U.S. Government department or agency.”¹⁰

The facts that are now public make clear that a damage assessment is appropriate. If you have not already done so, we request that you instruct the National Counterintelligence Executive, in consultation with the Inspector General of the Intelligence Community and other Inspectors General as appropriate, to conduct a damage assessment. In addition, we ask that you commit to providing an appropriate classified briefing on the conduct of the damage assessment as soon as possible. Even as the Justice Department’s investigation proceeds, ensuring that we take all necessary steps to protect classified information and mitigate the damage to national security done by its compromise is critically important.

Thank you for your prompt attention to this urgent matter.

Dear Director Haines and Attorney General Garland:

As the Chair and Vice Chair of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence, we write to request that you provide to the Committee information relating to the search of former President Donald Trump's Mar-a-Lago residence, which appears to involve classified documents pertaining to intelligence matters under this Committee's jurisdiction.

In the Attorney General's statement on Thursday, August 11, he noted the substantial public interest in this matter, which involves the unprecedented search of the home of a former president. At times like these, the need for bipartisan and responsible oversight of the actions of the Executive Branch is at its highest. Further, our Committee is charged with overseeing counterintelligence matters, including the handling and mishandling of classified information, which are at the core of the search executed at Mar-a-Lago.

Consistent with our oversight duties, we request that you provide to the Committee within 10 days of your receipt of this letter, in a manner compliant with the need to protect an ongoing investigation, all classified documents that were seized in the search of Mar-a-Lago, as well as an assessment of the risk to national security if those classified documents were to be exposed in public or to a foreign adversary. We also request that you provide to the Committee, consistent with federal legal obligations and in a manner that protects the identity of any relevant confidential human sources, all materials relevant to understanding the rationale behind and justification for the search, including but not limited to the underlying affidavit and all associated attachments and exhibits.

Dear Attorney General Garland:

On Monday, August 8, 2022, the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) conducted a court-authorized search of former President Trump's Mar-a-Lago residence and removed at least 45 enumerated items (27 boxes and 18 items grouped with imprecise labeling such as various, miscellaneous and or binders). The recently unsealed search warrant and receipt for property seized during this search includes at least 11 enumerated items purportedly containing classification markings.

I request an immediate briefing by you to Members of the House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence concerning your perceived risk to national security that mandated your selection of the most aggressive use of authority to resolve your concerns. Additionally, a detailed description of the materials and documents that were confiscated, a determination of their classification status, and the potential or perceived risks to national security posed by storage of these materials inside a guarded facility.

Both the unprecedented nature of this search and the assertions of national security threats posed by the alleged mishandling of the seized documents requires immediate Congressional attention and review. Thus, I also request your assistance in providing Members of this Committee the opportunity to review all seized documents used in support of the search warrant application and affidavit of probable cause, as well as all documents containing classification markings seized by the FBI.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Austin, Carlos, David –

Thanks for the call this morning and the draft of your letter and suggestions on ours.

Attached please find some minor tweaks from us to both.

We have not yet had the chance to run these by the DNI, and we may thus have further revisions (after we have a chance to connect with her later today).

But we wanted to get you these thoughts as quickly as possible so that you can incorporate them into your review.

Many thanks,

Chris

DOJ Colleagues –

As discussed, please find the draft letters, with minor changes (which are highlighted) from the last version we sent you.

Also, we should probably have a sync tomorrow AM to finalize the letters – just let us know what works for you.

Many thanks,

Chris

P.S. – Please feel free to share with the right people at the FBI; I just didn't have email addresses at the ready for the folks on the phone.

One more: this is the letter we would send back to individual members other than the Intel chairs/vice-chairs (Johnson, Scott, etc.). The language has been cleared by FBI and does not relate to the IC review. (b) (5)

The interagency group has a 2:15 sync at which we hope to tell each other we're all clear on the intel letters.

Marshall –

These are the latest versions of the letters. NSD, FBI (OCA), and ODNI all discussed these tonight and it looks like we are on track to settle the language early tomorrow. Given the timetable, I think it's an appropriate time to have the DAG review these versions. They are in redline, but you can share them in clean. Up to you.

Two notes on our letter: First, (b) (5). Second, (b) (5).

Other updates since we met:

- I understand the protocols should be landing first thing and will come to you.
- The senior interagency group is convening tomorrow at 1pm.
- The PA shops from FBI, DOJ, and ODNI are convening tomorrow morning. I spoke with Anthony tonight.
- The OLA shops are in regular contact.
- We are all working with the goal of hitting our targets tomorrow (protocols, letters, Hill outreach).
- It goes without saying that if any principals want to talk, the lines are open, but as of now we are not scheduling something for tomorrow.

I am remote tomorrow but will be logged in fulltime.

Optimistically,

Austin
